President David at the podium

President David thanked those volunteers that helped with the chairs on Australia Day.

Catering All the issues about catering were discussed. The only venue suitable is the Golf Club, at the football Club we can only meet on a Wednesday night and the Pickled Olive is not open yet. The Board has the final say and they met after the meeting to ratify a notice of motion to be put at the next meeting.

Neil Tubb notice of motion: "That we offer Fare Enough a 12 month contract and remain at the Golf Club."

Sergeant Peter Morley having the last say

Tubby sharing words of wisdom

Tubby The brochures for the Ride The Ranges will be printed next week, should the details of the Criterion be finalized.

There was a discussion about the Men's Shed and the possibility of getting a grant to extend the existing building. A condition of the lease with the Agricultural Society was to allow room for the Society for their equipment.

Wood drive should proceed with Peter Kugler cutting wood ready for splitting.

Tendering at the Sale Yards for the catering will be revisited, at the time the Board decided against the one off trial. Perhaps having a raffle drawn at each sale day may create interest.

Making money for the Club is getting harder and there is a need to continue to look outside the square. The market is improving slowly, but the trailer raffle needs an injection of new ideas.

The future involvement with the Show and Shine is very much in doubt as the potential liability on the Club with the insurance and legal responsibility being huge. The Club is considering its position with the Show and Shine Committee.

Membership Richard Nettleton From the Membership night, two people that were interested have left town and there are another three that Richard is to follow up. There may be an induction next week.

STOP PRESS While the RC of Euroa has not had a member take the DG office, a past member Margaret Jacobs has just been named the DGE designate in her Rotary District 6920.

"Ha ha", thought the cop gleefully, when he saw the staggering man walking out of the bar towards the parking lot, "I'll just wait until he pulls out and then I'll pull him over for drunk driving." There was no doubt about it the man was as drunk as could be, after tripping over a rock and dusting himself off, the man slowly made his way towards his car swaying every which way. After opening the passenger side door by mistake, the man finally opened the right door and sat down heavily in the driver's seat. After dosing off for a few minutes the man seemed to awake out of his drunken slumber and slowly put his keys in the ignition turning on the car. The man barely started pulling out before the cop turned on his sirens full blast and headed over to the car, "alright buddy" said the cop, "get on out and let me see you walk a straight line." To the cops surprise the man easily walked a straight line. After passing the Breathalyzer test too, the cop was positively mystified, "how'd you get sober so quick?" question the cop. "Get sober?" responded the man with a smile, "I always was sober, I was just distracting you so all my drunken buddies could escape without you noticing!"
