Billy's Blog

Thanks, Roman, for an interesting interview with Dan Mieleke last Thursday evening. As a youngster I fancied myself as a race caller too. I listened to Joe Brown calling on the ABC and tried to mimic him after each race. I wonder how many of us can remember Joe Brown?

Just a quick comment on one of the many interesting speakers at the recent conference – one that I'm sure would strike a nerve with all of us. A lady called Michelle Winser spoke on her involvement with a group called Destiny Rescue. They are involved with a cause that is doing all it can to end child slavery. They go to places like India and Thailand to rescue girls as young as 4 being sold for an average of the equivalent of $90 AUS. Their estimate is that there are 1.2 million girls being sold each year. Last year they rescued 200. Not a good percentage is it? They can make a speaker available to talk to us and I'm sure it's a project that we would all like to help.

This week it's our bus trip to Benalla. 6.15pm at the Sevens. Should be an entertaining night.
See you then.

Thursday Night's Meeting

An interview with Dan Mieleke, race caller and general sports enthusiast, and friend of our own Roman Kozlovski, was played for all present on at our last meeting. A good roll up watched Dan being capably interviewed by Roman recently. They have been friends for 30 years. Roman steered the conversation expertly and Dan revealed his passion for horseracing, pacing, trotting and harness racing. Very much a sporting person, Dan explained that he uses the colours of the silks to identify the horses and jockeys as they ride. The interview finished up with Dan calling a race using some of our Rotarian's names, thanks Roman (and Dan) for an entertaining evening.
